Need to improve, the wording of the Indian Council of World Affairs

SHRI SATYA PRAKASH MALA-VIYA (Uttar Pradesh): Mr. Vice. I Chairman, Sir, I (consider it my good fortune that when I rise to make this Special Mention, the hon. Minister of State for External Affairs, Mr. R. L. Bhatia, is present here because my Speciel Mention is about the Indian Council of World Affairs. 1 am drawing the attention of this House and, through this House, the attention of the Government to the very bad conditions prevailing in the Indian Council of World Affairs.

The ICWA is an institution of national and international importance. It is also an important academic organisation. It was founded in the year 1943 with the object of promoting the; study of Indian and international affairs and also foreign policies.

This institution, is also a registered society under the Registration of So-cieties Act. Our great national lea ders, Jawaharlal Nehru, Tej Bahadur Sapru and Dr. H. N. Kunzru were its founders. Dr. Tej Bahadur Sapru himself was its President from 1943 to 1947. Br Kunzru was its President from 1948 to 1966. Then, Sal-dar Swaran Singh functioned as its President from 1976 to 1981. The Council, in its formative years, deve loped itself, as- a distinguished forum for discussing the Indian and inter-national affairs.

Now the Council is being mismanaged. Low-paid employees are not being paid their salaries, and some of -them, have also been dismissed arbitrarily without assigning any rea-sons. There have also been complaints about the poor managemem of the ICWA and deterioration in the stock of its library.

A Bill to declares the ICWA as an of national importance: and to provide for its incorporation and matters cotonectted thereto was passed by Rajya Sabha on the 5th of September, 1990, but, subsequently, the Lok Sabha was dissolved. Therefore, the Bill could not be passed by the Lok Sabha, and it lapsed.

In reply to a Starred Question in Rajya Sabha, put by Shri Sukomal Sen on the 4th of September, 1991, I he then Mininster of External Aff-njrs replied that the Government was aware of the innumerable complaints made by the readers, researchers and employees of the institution about the gross mismanagement of the institution. The Minister furher said that the Government was 'considering various measures and proposals, including the possibility of re-introducing the Bill in Parliament to improve the working of the institution to restore its original character.

Further, in reply to another question in this very House on the 9th of December, 1981, put by Smt. Veena Verma who is, also a member of its body, the Minister for External Affairs, Mr. Solanki, replied that the present position was that the ICWA was not an institution of national im-;:or'iance arid that the proposal to reintroduce the legislation in that re-gard had been received and that it | was under the active consideration of the'Government. i

Then, a Standing Committee was \ formed. This is the First Report of I the Standing Committee of the Ex- fernal Affairs Ministry, which was i presented to the Lok Sabha as well as Rajya Sabha on the 27th of April, I 1998. Since then, more than a you has lapsed. After dealing with the I situation, the Committee has recom-' mended this, end I would like to read ! it:

"The Committee was informed that the question of revamping and * revitalising the functioning of ICWA has been engaging the Government's active consideration. The Committee feels that it is high time that the ICWA was Salvaged and resurrected in an autonomous institution of national importance before it is too late. The Committee urges upon the Government to appoint a high-powered committee without any further loss of time to review its functioning and to suggest necessary modalities for achieving the purpose. The Committee desired that the recommendation of the review committee and the action taken thereon be intimated to them."

Sir, this matter was .also raised by me in this very House on the 11th of December, 1991.

THE VICE-CHAIRMAN (SHRI V. NARAYANASAMY): Kindly conclude.

SHRI SATYA PRAKASH MALAVIYA: I am concluding in only one-and-a-half minutes

The then Minister of State for External Affairs, Mr. Eduardo Faleiro, also replied this on June 29, 1992, and I will read only three or four lirea.

"Dear Shri Malaviya,

"I am writing with reference to your Special Mention raised by you in the Rajya Sabha on 11th December, 1991, regarding mismanagement by Indian Council of World Affairs."

Then, he writes:

"I would like to assure you that we are also considering ways to revitalise the functioning of ICWA."

I have been informed that the emplcyees and to many other persons have also met the Prime Minister as well as the Mlinister concerned several times in a delegation.
